

The holographic theory provides an excellent fit to imaginary-time quantum Monte Carlo on the boson Hubbard model with $\gamma = 0.08$, and we combine these methods to obtain absolute predictions for the frequency-dependent conductivity.